

D2LT Associate Consultant

D2LT is an award-winning global legal data and consulting firm, operating at the intersection of FinTech & LegalTech. Founded in 2011, we have grown to an established and market-leading firm in a privileged position of advising leading investment banks, asset managers and other financial institutions on the management of legal data to support resource optimisation (across for example, capital, liquidity & collateral), regulatory reporting & operational management. We lead the document digitisation strategy for trade associations such as ISDA & ISLA, through work such as their clause taxonomy and library projects.

Job Requirement:

We are currently recruiting for a new or recent law school graduate or paralegal to contribute across a number of consulting engagements within investment bank clients. The role would suit an ambitious person interested in getting exposure to the capital markets, contracts, contract data, operations and technology.

The successful candidate will ideally be:

- JD (new or recent law school graduate) / Paralegal
- Problem solvers; with interests spanning law (across geographies), application of technology (including AI and Machine Learning), and an appreciation of the use of data to streamline business processes.
- Some capital markets experience (desirable).
- Excellent attention to detail and ability to follow instructions.
- Strong work ethic.
- Intermediate Microsoft Excel/Word/PowerPoint

Starting salary range $65 - $75 K + benefits, dependant upon experience.

The successful candidate will have a strong work ethic and desire to succeed attitude, coupled with a drive to take advantage of the learning opportunities the role offers. Assignments will likely involve reviewing legal contracts and assessing the contract language relative to regulatory requirements. Send resume to enquiries@d2legaltech.com
